

Jackson Surgical Assistants Launches Practice with Northwest Community Hospital (May 20, 2011)

ALPHARETTA, GA (May 20, 2011) - Jackson Surgical Assistants (JSA) has expanded its national presence in the practice management solutions arena with the addition of Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, IL.

Northwest Community Hospital is consistently recognized for clinical excellence in the form of the prestigious Magnet recognition as well as commendation for cardiovascular and stroke care. Northwest Community Hospital has also been recognized as a top workplace for employees within the Chicago area.

This relationship with Northwest Community Hospital further demonstrates JSA's ability to effectively transition the surgical assisting responsibility to JSA and provide surgical assisting quality and coverage at a lower cost than can be provided internally.

"Our mission is to provide hospitals, surgeons and surgical assistants with a rigorously developed surgical assisting solution that contributes to better surgical outcomes and service while reducing costs," said Paul Foster, President of JSA. "Northwest Community Hospital and JSA are aligned in that pursuit."

Highly skilled surgical assistants provide services essential for the wellbeing of patients and the success of surgical teams. JSA's program enhances the surgeon's experience and focuses on enabling the greatest patient outcome.

"Jackson Surgical Assistants exhibited a strength in delivery of a turnkey solution due to its Corporate resources, strong compensation and benefit offering for employees and the financial stability of the Jackson Healthcare Family of Companies," said Meaghan Reshoft, Executive Director, Surgical Services at Northwest Community Hospital.

"Jackson Surgical Assistants is very focused on the employee. It's a tall order to do the right thing by the employee, yet also provide coverage and quality while working through a transition," said Jill Moscato, Perioperative Manager at Northwest Community Hospital.
